REFLECTION

In today's Gospel, Jesus is not attempting to abolish the law, but rather He is challenging us His disciples to be more practical and sincere in fulfilling it. The whole moral value of any legal observance (the Mosaic law included), comes from the interior disposition of one who witnesses or keeps the law. The old law is not abolished but expanded and given a new interpretation. True and sincere service to God therefore begins in the heart and has its value from this interior disposition. Keeping God's law is our way of demonstrating to God that we are grateful, obedient and faithful to Him who gave us all we have and who Has assured us future gifts infinitely greater still. And just as our love for God is attested by our true love for our neighbor, so the last seven of the commandments impose on us obligations regarding our neighbor. It is only by fulfilling these seven that we can fulfill the first three which govern our relations with God.

~ Fr. Caroli Shao, A.J.

ASH WEDNESDAY

We are entering, today, upon a long campaign of the warfare spoken of by the apostles: forty days of battle, forty days of penance. We shall not turn cowards, if our souls can but be impressed with the conviction, that the battle and the penance must be gone through. ...

The enemies we have to fight with, are of two kinds: internal, and external. The first are our passions; the second are the devils. Both were brought on us by pride, and man's pride began when he refused to obey his God. God forgave him his sin, but He punished him. The punishment was death, and this was the form of the divine sentence: 'Thou art dust, and into dust thou shalt return'....

It is probable that, when this ceremony of the Wednesday of Quinquagesima week was first instituted, it was not intended for all the faithful, but only for such as had committed any of those crimes for which the Church inflicted a public penance. Before the Mass of the day began, they presented themselves at the church, where the people were all assembled. The priests received the confession of their sins, and then clothed them in sackcloth, and sprinkled ashes on their heads. After this ceremony, the clergy and the faithful prostrated, and recited aloud the seven Penitential Psalms. A procession, in which the penitents walked barefooted, then followed; and on its return, the bishop addressed these words to the penitents: 'Behold, we drive you from the doors of the church by reason of your sins and crimes, as Adam, the first man, was driven out of paradise because of his transgression.' The clergy then sang ... responsories, taken from the Book of Genesis, in which mention was made of the sentence pronounced by God when He condemned man to eat his bread in the sweat of his brow, for that the earth was cursed on account of sin. The doors were then shut, and the penitents were not to pass the threshold until Maundy Thursday, when they were to come and receive absolution.

Dating from the eleventh century, the discipline of public penance began to fall into disuse, and the holy rite of putting ashes on the heads of all the faithful indiscriminately became so general that, at length, it was considered as forming an essential part of the Roman liturgy. Formerly, it was the practice to approach bare-footed to receive this solemn memento of our nothingness; and in the twelfth century, even the Pope himself, when passing from the church of St. Anastasia to that of St. Sabina, at which the station was held, went the whole distance bare-footed, as also did the Cardinals who accompanied him. The Church no longer requires this exterior penance; but she is as anxious as ever that the holy ceremony, at which we are about to assist, should produce in us the sentiments she intended to convey by it, when she first instituted it. — Ash Wednesday as part of Quinquagesima Week. The excerpts for this are taken from Volume 4, pages 178-205 by Abbe Dom Prosper Gueranger

March 1 — German Mass Choir

The combined Gottscheer Heimatchor/STV Bavaria choir will sing Michael Haydn's "Deutsches Hochamt" ("German High Mass") at the 11:00am German Mass on March 1. Michael Haydn (1737-1806) was the younger brother of famed composer Joseph Haydn. In 1762, Michael Haydn received an appointment as a concertmaster in Salzburg, where he remained for 44 years. During that time, he wrote over 360 compositions, including the "Deutsches Hochamt" (1793). From their mutual time in Salzburg, Haydn was acquainted with Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, who held his work in high esteem. [paraphrased from Wikipedia, https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Michael_Haydn]

CATHOLIC RELIEF SERVICES (CRS) RICE BOWL

Each Lent, Catholic families across the country unite to put their faith into action through prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Through CRS Rice Bowl, families learn about how our sisters and brothers across the globe overcome hardships like hunger and malnutrition. CRS Rice Bowl is one way Catholics can enhance their Lenten fasting practice by giving up meals and donating the cost of those meals to Catholic Relief Services in order to help those who do not have enough to eat. Pick up your family's CRS Rice Bowl today from the table in the back of the church, and begin engaging your family in the daily pillars of Lent: Prayer, Fasting and Almsgiving. Visit crsricebowl.org for more information.
